SUMMARY

I am an Industrial and Interaction Designer passionate about design, technology, art, new media and music.

I design interactive experiences at the intersection of design, art and technology. These experiences are realized in products, installations and digital interfaces. I want my work to tempt people into active engagement and make them part of an aesthetic interaction.

I believe in a collaborative, hands-on approach in an iterative process. Teamwork and design by doing trigger the creative process and bring ideas to life which makes it able to test and evaluate them.
